About Us

Leveraging on our strong resources, we, Epoch Exports have become the suitable choice to avail the best quality Strong Stick Safety Matches, Kitchen Safety Matches Stick, Wax Safety Matches Stick, and more varieties. As a manufacturer and supplier, we have put great efforts into hiring well-qualified designers and engineers. Our professionals work together in a team to pull off the manufacturing process, successfully. They assign themselves tasks as per their expertise and work in coordination to maintain the highest standards of quality in our range of products while delivering a greater output.

Straight from the first stage of the production process to the packaging of the products, everything is carried out by our professionals under the supervision of our quality auditors. For us, the primary objective is to build a healthy relationship with our customers. And our professionals aid us in achieving the target by offering match sticks that are easy to hold, durable, smooth, and have a long burning time and one-time ignition.

Quality Assurance

We believe maintaining an optimum level of quality across our array of offerings is key to building long-term relationships with our customers. Right from the conceptualizing of the product to setting up a quality management system, and product testing, all the processes are effectively carried out by our team of quality specialists to satisfy the predetermined set of expectations of the customers.

Infrastructure

We feel elevated in stating the fact that we have invested large capital in setting up two well-equipped manufacturing units. Our manufacturing units are built in accordance with the latest developments. With the help of our integrated manufacturing units, our team of proficient professionals is able to make the most of their learnings and skills to introduce the latest technological advancements in the production process to intensify productivity.
